The Banner .- "The Position of the Yancey ites Stated" is the subject of the leading article in the Banner. Our neighbor again shows that leading Democrats in Tennessee who denied in 1856 the right of Congressional Intervention have shifted around, as political and other weather-cocks sometimes will n a high wind, and are now out for that this doctrine is right now, since the split in the Democratic party, it was not right then?" busy just now, and hasn't got time to answer the question himself, we will have the kindness to answer it for him. We shall make out no bill for the joh; but if, when it is done, our contemporary is pleased with it, and will send us down a check for a couple of hundreds of dollars as a slight compensation 12 545, 12,883, 14 004, 15,725, 17,295, 18,275 18,718, for our trouble, we will write him down an individual who is always willing to pay others for doing whatever it is inconvenient to do himself. The reason then is simply this: Before the split in the Democratic party (and oh what a split it was, my countrymen!) there was no doctrine of Congressional Intervention in the Democratic party at the South, but since that split there is a doctrine of that sort in the Democratic party at the South, and, as everybody knows,

. Whatever is is right. Before that split the anti-Douglas Democracy thought they could get along tolerably well without that doctrine, but since the split they found they had nothing else left them, and as the best thing they could find, they put their foot on it. Before the close of the canvass they will discover that they have also put their foot in it. And now, if this answer to the Banner's very severe question is n't worth the pitiful and contemptible sum of two hundred dollars to a newspaper that evidently has much more money than ammunition for this fight, it is n't worth a red. At the head of an article from the Memphis Appeal, the Banner places the announcement:

"HATWOOD SPEAKS!" This, without some explanation, is calculated to create the impression abroad that our young friend, Bon Haywoop, the second edition of the Breckinridge Elector for this The Legislature of the State of Georgia having District, has been making a speech. Such is generally understood, however, among those who claim to be in his confidence, that it is 2d inst. his intention to do, so at some future period in the history of the canvass. To Sportsmen .- Among the new advertise ments in this issue of the PATRIOT will be found that of Mr. FRANK J. BITTERLICH, who has recently opened a gunsmith's shop over Barkhorn's on Deaderick street. We called in at his shop a tew days after he commenced work here, and were surprised to find that we have in our midst a workman whose guns and pistols are equal in every respect to those of Eastern manufacture, and some have even pronounced them superior to all others. For some three or four years Mr. BITTERLICH has been associated with SCHNEIDER & Co., of Memphis, which house is justly celebrated for the superiority of its work.

We had thought, until we saw some of Mr. BITTERLICH'S work, that the far-famed Deringer was the pistol, but after testing both the "Derringer" and Mr. BITYERLICH's pocket pistols, we are strongly inclined to yield the palm to the latter. In view of this fact, we would suggest to all who wish to procure a double-barrel shot-gun, rifle, or pistol of the most beautiful finish and of the most superior kind, or desire to have repairing done in the most workmanlike manner, that they call upon Mr. BITTERLICH. We know that whatever work he undertakes will be executed in the very best style. Drop in and examine specimens of his work.

In several places types have made me say what I did not say. They have changed "very bad man" to "very man," $10,000 to $20,000 $15,600 to $15,000," &c. In my last article "spirit," is changed to "spirits themselves," "choose to be," to "desire to be," &c. I have not communion with "spirits," ardent of "spirits" table-tipping. I hope types will be more careful in future, because it is sometimes convient for those who have no better argument with which to refute important truths, to avail themselves of a spot on an an ald shoe once worn by the guilty "somebody." "It is the last straw that breaks the camels back," and if any addition should be made to the "marks of ignorance" of one by whom "great injustice has been done to the management of the schools," it would sink him into contempt and oblivion. Therefore types should correct their own errors in justice and mine in mercy. The New Orleans Picayune published a de scription of a wonderful race of human beings discovered on the table lands of the Andes. Other papers copied the important news before they discovered that the article was dated April 1st. The other papers were Have I also been sold by the commit-It has at last occurred to me that the report, which I have been regarding as a thing intended to be understood literally, was only intended as a keen satire on the whole management of the Free Schools Viewed in this light it is thoughhut one of the best sustained satires I have ever seen. They must have arisen from a recent perusal of Dean Swift's saure "Etymology in earnest," which I heartily commend for perusal in the realms of forgyism. Reader, after careful examing the records to which I have so constantly referred for prost of the correctness of what I have asserted, then re-peruse the report and see if you do not conclude it was it was intended as a burlesque. An article in the Patriot of the 4th inst. seems to speak by authority, and is evidently intended to be a reply to my remarks on the alterations in the Hume School Building .-This brings me before that High Court of Error and Appeals, the people, before whom I am always willing to be judged. I regret the writer did not comply with my request to have all articles on the school question over the signature of the writer. I think this would be more satisfactory to the public. I am always thankful for baving my errors corrected, and as I have heretofore said, it would be strange if I should not make some slight errors, but I have yet to learn that I have made one of any importance. Many points connected with this school subject I have not discussed as fully as their importance deon my purse and time too great to suit my avaricious disposition.

I agree with the writer that more ventilation is needed, even more than he proposes for, before the rooms are "perfectly ventila ted," there must be ventilation at the floor and at the ceiling. I do not agree with the writer that "these two halls were perfect.y ventilated, having two large windows at each end and each side," for I did not find two large windows in either of them on the side next the passage, and if they were there, the partition across the passage, to which I reerred, cuts off the chance for ventilation, and increases the vil of which the writer complains-want of ventilation. Why was not the evil removed four years since? and why is it now greatly increased by closing one end of the passage? Is it a new discovery that children have lungs? If I am correctly informed, these partitions were placed there before any teaching was done in the building. For the purpose of having two apartments for recitation, (then why not let it stay in twe apartments as it was?) board partitions, half he length of the halls, have been run across them." How can they go across, when they are but half the length? "These partitions may be lowered or elevated by means of cords," &c. "When the recitation rooms are in use, they will be lowered, and up when the rooms are not in use." Will they not be in use all the time? If not, what will the teacher be doing? If a partition is needed, what was the sense in taking out a solid one and putting in such a rattler, and making the expense of cutting through solid brick walls, and putting in several new doors? The writer does not tell us the wisdom of closing one end of the upper passage, on which the ventillation of the whole Again I say, good people, go and examine In my remarks on the purchase of books, ic., for the schools, I omitted to say that the Nashville Board might have learned from the New York or the Philadelphia Board at what prices they purchased supplies of books, &c., and from what houses they purchased, and by what laws on the subject they are governd. The Board and the people should have made themselves acquainted with the salutary laws that govern in places where such conomy is shown. The people should demand to be intormed why no such wholesome laws exist here, when such an enormous differeucein th expense of books,&c., exists. Had the people in estigated this school subject at the pening of the schools, and laught their representatives what they must and should do, it would have been $100,000 better for the ause of education, and 2500,000 better for the prosperity of the city. They should have demanded to know why the laws that were ussed in accordance with the advice Mr. Home based on the experience of many year in various cities, should be repealed, so so s. Mr. Pearl commenced his labors here, and why a course of pretended legislation should be adopted that is unknown in the United States-nay, in the civilized world. An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen, of high medical authority and extraordinary efficacy in each of the following complaints, viz.:

DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHEA, CONSTIPATION, CROFULA, SALT RHEUM, SCURVY, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINTS RHEUMA. TISM, MERCURIAL CONSEQUENCES, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, NEURALGIA, CHRONIC HEADACHES, FEMALE WEAKPESS, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, etc., PIMPLES ON THE FACE, ROUGHNESS OF

THE SKIN, etc. The IRON being absorbed by the blood, and thus circulating through the whole system, no part of the body can escape their truly wonderful influence.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be commared with it. Impurities of the blood, decompared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (fluor albus, chlorosis, etc.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use. As a grand stomachic and general restorativit has no superior and no substitute.
